Tears of joy

If everything is language, words are only masks, pictures pasted on ideas and concepts. There are so many things you cannot express through words. One look, a simple gesture, sometimes enough to open wide the door of the most powerful feelings, those in the path of the heart.

Sometimes this bliss can offer a careful, compassionate smile, testimony of a wave of sympathy. But when the force of emotion and gladness become ungovernable, they submerge being, and then the joy of tears gush out not being able to retain it.

A circumstance, fact, a vision ... a spark that awakens inside us so many things lived, so many adventures. In a split second distant memories back to life, interspersed with happiness, joy but also suffering and pain.

Thus, before more than a hundred students gathered in a traditional and peaceful atmosphere on the occasion of the commemoration ceremony, that can express the words? How few syllables could summarize 40 years of effort, toil, energy devoted to the construction of a building such as QWAN KI DO?

The feelings go where one word can bring.

Today QWAN KI DO takes the form of an original method of martial art, iconic, recognized not only by the worldwide organization of sports such as TAFISA but also authenticated by its own land of origin: Vietnam.

How can we forget the pioneering students who already distant in time have devoted their bodies and souls with such fervor? Those students who have shared hard times, who have traveled all this long way. Life decided according to his own will, today some of them are no longer alive, but their contribution, their loyalty to the method are that their name will remain forever engraved in the foundations of the pantheon QWAN KI DO.

How could it have been transmitting these values of martial art without the long line of Vietnam Masters especially the late Grand Master Chau Quan Ky? Not forgetting, the brothers of unfailing weapons, supporting and sharing the demanding training in the way of the martial art. Today they either are no longer with us to share and enjoy together this moment of satisfaction and fullness.

But now other generations took over, succeeding their elders doing as much proof of loyalty and fidelity to the method. It is their turn to take the example of the former and continue to preserve, to work and develop the precious heritage of QWAN KIDO.

Regarding the elders who are still present, they certainly deserve attention, recognition and empathy. Because you must not wait until they are beyond this world to recognize and hypocritically posthumous rank, their courage and the respect they deserve.

It is for these reasons that Thày Chuong Môn expressed its willingness to prioritize grades in accordance with the tradition of his school, raising his oldest students in the highest ranks of QWAN KIDO.

At the end of this memorable ceremony, as the custom wants in Italy, Thay Chuong Môn presented the diplomas to graduates who successfully obtained their degrees exams from the Black Belt.

Taking advantage of this opportunity and without telling anyone, Thày Chuong Môn has come to the hotel ancestor Su Truong Roberto VISMARA to formally give him the highest grade of QWAN KIDO.

This surprise literally grabbed all participants in the room and spread a special atmosphere. Given this remarkable event, the emotion was so strong that precipitated Thày Chuong Môn, senior officers and practitioners present in torment tears of joy!

The words are not enough. As Thày Chuong Môn said so often :

"The lips of wisdom are closed. Except to the ears of reason. "

Suddenly practitioners wake up out of this beautiful emotion, applause, songs of joy followed one another to celebrate this wonderful event!
